

at ease?

Absolutely, thanks to Honeywell's all-digital mobile security.

Every day Honeywell puts the safety of school bus drivers and their passengers first with easy to use video security systems. Our wireless Digital Data Recorder, HTRD400 Series and vandal resistant cameras are mounted inside and outside of the bus – recording high-quality, digital images and clear audio while in motion.

And because a picture is worth a thousand words, you can count on Honeywell's digital mobile security solutions to capture that critical moment. Putting you at ease with your security and safety needs.
